

Is running a dishwasher when it is only half full water wise or water wasteful?

Answer: Wasteful

Does the WELS scheme use flowers, stars or fish to show how water efficient an appliance is?

Answer: Stars

What does the 'E' in WELS stand for?

Answer: Efficiency

Name an appliance that might have a WELS label.

Answer: Dishwasher, toilet, washing machine, tap, urinal, showerhead

Which is a more efficient way to water the garden: with a drip irrigation hose or with a sprinkler?

Answer: Drip irrigation

What does the 'L' in WELS stand for?

Answer: Labelling

Which uses more water: a 3-minute shower or a full bath?

Answer: Bath

Which uses more water: a 3-minute shower or a 10-minute shower?

Answer: 10-minute shower

Can you collect and store rain water in a tank to water the garden?

Answer: Yes

Does using mulch on the plants in your garden help save water?

Answer: Yes

Can a dual-flush toilet help save water?

Answer: Yes

Does turning off the tap while brushing your teeth save water?

Answer: Yes

Is it possible to save water by planting native plants in your garden?

Answer: Yes

True or false: Water-efficient showerheads and taps use more water than standard ones.

Answer: False

Why do we use mulch in the garden?

Answer: To help keep moisture in the soil

True or false: You should water your garden or lawn after rainfall.

Answer: False

